FilmNet - South Baltic Film and Culture Network combines cultural institutions and organizations in the field of film and film education. FilmNet is a place for exchange of experience, transfer of knowledge and nourishes permanent cooperation with an aim of improving the quality of film education.

The aim of the project is to build a network of film organizations - open to institutions that want to be active in the field of film education, building film culture and internal cooperation in the Baltic area. By taking part in the project, we participate in creating and promoting the Baltic identity - our actions are directed to every person who lives in the Baltic Sea area. Regardless of the country we live in, we have a lot in common.
